PARENTING:
HELPING OUR CHILDREN ANSWER THE QUESTIONS BEHIND THE QUESTIONS

Everyone has to answer the questions ‘Who am I?’ and ‘How should I live?’.
Behind these questions lie three more questions to which our culture and the Bible give radically different answers.

Who has the right to tell me what to do? (Authority)	Psalm 47:2: ‘For the Lord Most High is awesome, the great King over all the earth.’ 1 Corinthians 6:19-20: ‘You are not your own; you were bought at a price. Therefore, honour God with your bodies.’
Who knows me best? Who knows what is best for me to do? (Knowledge)	Psalm 139:1 – 2, 13 – 16: ‘You have searched me, Lord, and you know me ...’ Proverbs 4: 20, 22: ‘My son, pay attention to what I say; turn your ear to my words ... for they are life to those who find them and health to one’s whole body.’
Who loves me and wants the best for me? (Trustworthiness)	Galatians 2:21: ‘... I live by faith in the Son of God, who loved me and gave himself for me’.

CHRISTIANS IN SOCIETY

‘Remind the people to be subject to rulers and authorities, to be obedient, to be ready to do whatever is good, to slander no-one, to be peaceable and considerate, and to show true humility towards all men.’
(Titus 3:1 -2)

‘Do not repay anyone evil for evil. Be careful to do what is right in the eyes of everybody. If it is possible, as far as it depends on you, live at peace with everyone.’ (Romans 12:17 – 18)

Christians should:

- be law abiding (Rom. 13:1- 2) except where obedience to the law would result in disobedience to God (Acts 4:19)
- seek to establish a reputation for right conduct (Rom. 12:17)
- avoid unnecessary provocation (Rom. 12:18)
- not flinch from necessary provocation - speaking the truth in love (2 Cor. 4:2, 13:8; Eph. 4:15)
- decide whether to defend their own rights (Acts 16:35 - 40) or to forgo them (1 Cor. 9) as best serves the gospel
- be concerned for, and take care of, the vulnerable (Jam. 1:27)
- speak up for those who are treated unjustly (Isa. 1:17);
- seek the welfare of the city in which we are exiles (Jer. 29:7); and
- live such good lives that, though accused of wrongdoing, their good deeds may be seen (1 Pet. 2: 12, 15).

For the life of the church as a whole, Matthew 19:13-30 illustrates the principles of ‘loving welcome’ (Matt. 19:13-15), ‘costly discipleship’ (Matt. 19:16-26) and ‘new family’ (Matt. 19:29).

Secular Websites

While resources on secular websites will need to be used with discernment, there is a wealth of helpful, or potentially helpful, material available from a number of sources:

(a) General

Genspect (www.genspect.org): Genspect describes itself as 'an international, non-partisan, interdisciplinary professional and educational organisation devoted to advancing a healthy approach to sex and gender. Our team and members strive to promote high-quality, evidence-based care for gender-nonconforming individuals all around the world'.

Sex Matters (www.sex-matters.org): Sex Matters is a UK-based not-for-profit organisation which publishes research, guidance and analysis and campaigns to re-establish that biological sex matters in laws, policies, language and culture and, amongst other things, its website includes a range of resources for parents + teachers.

Transgender Trend (www.transgendertrend.com): Transgender Trend, based in the UK, describes itself as 'the leading organisation in the call for evidence-based healthcare for children and young people suffering gender dysphoria and for factual, science-based teaching in schools.'
